I/we understand that by completing this Pre-Enrollment form, my child is not guaranteed enrollment at Rio Rancho Cyber Academy (RRCA) nor does this form assure a place on the enrollment waiting list. Each prospective student with their parent/guardian must participate in the RRCA interview process and the prospective student must complete a skills assessment.

Parent/Guardian Signature Date

I/we understand the key to success at RRCA is:

1. Good communication with the RRCA staff while at school and through Edgenuity email.
2. Student motivation to stay on target in the Edgenuity program.
3. Excellent student attendance on designated school days and student perseverance in working on courses on work from home days.
4. 100% completion of each quarter and by the end of each semester
5. Student application of the RRCA student principles and values: Effort, Integrity, Courage, Humility, Passion, Creativity, Perseverance, and Compassion.

Challenges of Online Learning

See Edgenuity Orientation Video at: <http://www.edgenuity.com/the-experience/student-experience/>

You must set goals and keep them

- 100% completion of each quarter and by the end of each semester
- Quality education: don't settle for lower grades when you can work harder and earn higher marks

Maintaining a weekly schedule

- Factor the number of quizzes you have left to accomplish in the amount of time remaining in the school year
- Observing the percentage completion you should be at given the time in the semester
- Keep your work in all your classes balanced, don't save your harder classes for last

Use the Assignment Calendar and Progress Report

- Race against the Assignment Calendar in Edgenuity to cross the weekly finish line a winner
- If you are behind that means you have to perform extra to get caught up
- Check your progress daily and compare it to the Assignment Calendar to help you with your weekly schedule
- Make 6% progress weekly or more in each of your classes
- Good rule of thumb: it takes about 30 hours a week in Edgenuity to compete against the Assignment Calendar and finish your course on time or ahead of the semester deadlines

It is your responsibility to use the Web Based program to the fullest

- Use eNotes
- Use your "own" efforts to answer O/C questions, journals, and practice/homework
- Review the lesson
- Review assessments
- Communicate to teacher by email and in the lab when physically at RRCA
- Ask for help when you have concerns - we are here to help

Success is up to you, not the computer program

- Inspire yourself to accomplish each week what the Assignment Calendar identifies
- You have the tools at your fingertips to be successful
- Believe in yourself, your teacher at RRCA believe in you

Maintain communications with your supporters (parents/guardians and RRCA staff)

- Be pro-active and ask for help before you get too far behind
- Let those who care about you know how you are doing (good and bad) in all your classes
- Remind parents to look in their email inbox for the weekly progress reports

Benefits of Progress Reports

- Shows student grade and completion status
- Shows number of activities student has left to complete
- Student will have accurate idea of grade earned in a course
